

ACCUSE JAPAN OF EFFORT TO DRUG CHINESE

Report Nippon Also Flooding America With Narcotics

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

New York, June 29.—(AP)—History records many almost unbelievable war atrocities, but it has remained for the present day to produce charges of conquest by selling smoking-opium to the enemy for the dual purpose of smothering his resistance and at the same time making him help pay in cash for the operation.

That in effect is the accusation against Japan now being investigated by the League of Nations Narcotics Advisory Commission, John Chinaman, who for several years has been vigorously fighting his weakness for the pipe of dreams, is held to be the victim.

The allegations come from several sources, including our own Stuart J. Fuller, who is United States delegate to the advisory commission. He bluntly charges Japan with "a narcotics invasion" of China.

With equal vigor, the Japanese representative, Ediji Amari, denies the stories.

Not only are the Nipponese accused of distributing opium wholesale to the Chinese, but of manufacturing huge quantities of narcotic derivatives and exporting them to the United States and other countries for illicit traffic.

Delegate Fuller has been after Japan for a long time, and he doesn't mince words. He claims the narcotics situation in the parts of China under Japanese control is worse than ever.

Traffic Goes Along
"Where Japanese influence advances in the far east," he declares, "drug traffic goes with it." And again: "Opium production in the portions of China under Japanese control has been and still is increasing at a menacing rate."

During the annual conference of state and territorial health officers at Washington in April, the California representatives of the committee on narcotic addiction stated that Japan is helping finance her campaigns in China by stimulating the production of "an enormous surplus of opium and the distribution of its derivatives every where."

Early this month T. W. Russell, the Englishman at the head of Egypt's narcotics intelligence bureau, told the League of Nations commission that 90 per cent of all illegally marketed narcotics in the world are of Japanese origin, manufactured in Chinese cities under Japanese supervision.

He said that, of 1,100 pounds of one narcotic preparation shipped each week from Tientsin, ninety per cent went to the United States. Dr. Hoo Chi Tsai, Chinese representative, told the League of Nations commission that the Japanese had turned Manchotukuo into "a vast arsenal of narcotics."

Poppies Seen
Opium poppies are reported to be nodding over vast areas in occupied Chinese territory—beautiful to the eye but worse than death to the addict. Besides all this, Japan is importing and distributing opium on a big scale in China from Iran, according to delegate Fuller. This is converted into a potent and destructive narcotic and sold illicitly in America and Europe, he said.

That is the latest picture to be placed before us, but turn back just one page and see what we have. In the latter part of 1936 the Chinese government, in an unprecedented move to try to stamp out wide-spread use of narcotics, issued an edict that "any person found guilty of smoking or dealing in opium or other narcotics on or after New Year's day be shot."

There was a wild rush to get "cured," and undoubtedly many people did get rid of the habit.

The firing squads got busy. In many instances crowds of maybe fifty thousands turned out to see the working of the law, for the authorities were anxious to impress the public with the seriousness of the situation.

The grand trial of executions never was made public, but after the law had been in operation some five months, the anti-opium commission in Nanking announced that 970 addicts had been shot.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek led the crusade against narcotics in the Japanese invasion took all time.

FORGED PRESCRIPTIONS
Chicago.—(AP)—Miss Ellen Morrison, 30, dog fancier of near Elgin, Ill., was released under $1,000 bond yesterday when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of forging prescriptions to obtain narcotics. Federal agents said Miss Morrison, who was seized Saturday, forged the name of a Bavarian physician to more than 100 prescriptions.

Veteran Dies

LESTER C. STREET

Prominent in Illinois Elks association circles, Past Exalted Ruler of Dixon lodge, pioneer builder of railroads in Mexico and the southern states, Spanish American War veteran and for many years a member of the engineering staff of the Illinois department of highways, who expired suddenly at his home here last evening.

LESTER STREET DIED SUDDENLY TUESDAY NIGHT

Had Been Under Observation Several Weeks
By Doctor

Lester Chapin Street, native of Lee county, passed away very suddenly last evening at 11 o'clock at his home, 520 North Jefferson avenue. He had gone to bathe in the bath room before retiring, where he was stricken, death being instantaneous. He had been under the observation of a physician for several weeks.

He was born in Nachusa, Lee county, July 9, 1875, the son of the late Horace and Evelyn Bodwell Street, and at the time of his passing was aged 62 years, 11 months and 19 days. He was united in marriage to Miss Anna Saffron at Baraboo, Wis., in 1903, who survives him with two daughters, Miss Evelyn who is chief nurse and in charge of the health department at Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Miss Alice, who recently graduated from Coe college and is at present a member of the supervising staff at a Girl Scout camp in Minnesota. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Marietta Price of this city and a brother, Horace of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. Street obtained his early education in the Dixon public and high schools, then entered the civil engineering department of the University of Wisconsin and served as a member of the varsity crew. He graduated in 1898.

From 1907 to 1912 he pursued his chosen vocation, pioneering in the building of railroads in Alabama and from 1907 to 1912, he spent in Mexico, where he continued in the supervision of railroad construction. He served as county surveyor for several terms and in 1920 entered the service of the Illinois state highway department where remained until late last fall, when

Search Continuing For Chester Liles Charged With Auto Theft

A search by police and sheriff's forces continued today in this locality for 21 year old Chester Liles, for whom Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber yesterday secured a warrant, charging him with the theft of an automobile belonging to J. P. Brechon of South Dixon from the streets of this city on Saturday afternoon. Police and the sheriff's forces scoured certain sections of the county yesterday and until late last night in search of the youth.

Liles, it was learned late last night, appeared in Amboy last evening about 6 o'clock after driving a car which is believed to have been stolen from Alexander park at Princeton Sunday evening. Early yesterday morning, a farmer was reported to have found Liles sleeping in the stolen car about 12 miles south of Dixon on the Pump Factory road, with four bags of chickens lying in front of the car. The farmer, knowing the youth aroused him, and shortly afterward he was re-

Curiosity

New York, June 29.—(AP)—Found—a cat that curiosity almost killed. It's Tibby, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Hopkins. The cat stuck its head into the rear of a radio to see what made the music. An official of the SPCA had to take the radio apart to free Tibby.

CHILD DROWNED AT PARK FOUND LATE YESTERDAY

The body of Phyllis Jackson, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Jackson of Wheaton, who was drowned in Pine creek at White Pines state park early Friday as a CCC detail attempted to rescue the family from their automobile stalled in one of the fords of the creek, was recovered late yesterday afternoon about two miles south of the scene of the accident.

Ending a five-day search, the body was discovered by the child's father, Lawrence Bertsch of 1107 W. Sixth street, Dixon, a cousin of the victim and Chief Deputy Sheriff Sam Geary of Ogle county in a field on the Millard Funk farm, two miles south of Pines creek, near the banks of the creek. It apparently had been deposited there when the flood waters subsided. A dress the girl was wearing was found yesterday afternoon about a mile from where she drowned.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson with another daughter, Patricia, had arrived at the park last Wednesday to spend the week end. During the cloudbursts of early Friday morning their tent was flooded and they sought shelter in their car. In attempting to leave the camp site the motor was flooded and the car stalled on one of the fords, and became engulfed in the torrent.

Jackson managed to put his family on top of the car from where he called for help. Three hours later aid came and a log was floated out to the marooned party. Mrs. Jackson was carrying the daughter Patricia and Mr. Jackson carried the older child who was swept out of his arms by the raging waters.

Du Page authorities aided in the search for the body. A verdict of death by drowning was returned at an inquest conducted last night by Dr. J. C. Atkins, Ogle county coroner. The body was taken to Wheaton for services and burial.

Julius E. Gebert Dies Very Suddenly

Julius E. Gebert, of 111 Lincoln Statue Drive passed away suddenly at his home about 11 o'clock last night.

Mr. Gebert was born September 15, 1892 and is survived by his widow, one son Austin and one daughter Mrs. Gertrude Campbell both of Dixon, one step-daughter Mrs. Ben Howard and one step-son Weldon White, both of Dixon and two sisters Mrs. Merle Hickey and Mrs. Edna Lawrence both of St. Louis, Mo.

Funeral services will be held Friday at the Jones funeral home at 2 o'clock with Rev. Paul Gordon of Bethel church officiating. Burial plans are incomplete.

Dopey Nets Disney Employs Bonus Of 3-Months Salary

Hollywood, June 29.—(AP)—Dopey is going to repay the folks who cheered him on when he was just a gleam in Walt Disney's eye.

A bonus of three months' salary for all 800 employees of Disney's studio is in prospect if the profits on "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" come up to expectations.

A spokesman for Disney said the bonuses would total more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

ELECTION DRIVE MAY DETERMINE GOP LEADERSHIP

Both Landon, Hoover Hold Claims As Party Heads

Washington, June 29.—(AP)—The congressional election campaign may determine whether Alf M. Landon or Herbert Hoover will be recognized as the titular leader of the Republican party.

Friends of the two men consider both have a claim to the leadership—Landon as the party's last standard bearer and Hoover as its last president.

Prominent Republicans in Washington said today that campaign activities of the pair should give the rank-and-file an effective yardstick for measuring the relative effectiveness of their leadership.

In some cases, one or the other may have his way about the nomination of Republican candidates. In others, state and county leaders may have an opportunity to observe which one demonstrates the most vote-getting power for party nominees.

Both Hoover and Landon are expected to make a series of addresses during the campaign. Common of Bethel church officiating. Burial plans are incomplete.

Arranging Own Tour

Landon, who has been reported at odds with National Chairman John Hamilton, was expected to arrange his speaking tour without consulting the national committee. The national executive committee, meeting here Monday, endorsed Hamilton and his campaign program, but did not discuss the question of whether Landon or Hoover should be recognized as titular head.

Party workers asserted that the man who can gain recognition as the leader will be in a strong position to dicker for candidates and

U. S. ASSURED DEPRESSION DRIVE BEGUN

Expected To Reach Full Momentum By July 1

Hyde Park, N. Y., June 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt gave the nation assurance today that the big federal drive on depression would reach full momentum by July 1.

At the same time, the president said, this country still is searching for a permanent solution of the unemployment problem—a solution that will not involve big expenditures for armaments.

Mr. Roosevelt, discussing relief objectives at a press conference late yesterday, said one matter under study was how Sweden was able to pay off the cost of a public works relief program, instituted during bad years, with funds accruing during more prosperous times.

The president compared that Scandinavian country's success in paying off work debts with the United States which he noted did not rid itself in the comparatively good business years of 1936-37 of the cost of lending and spending programs in 1933-34-35.

In the present $3,750,000,000 campaign to aid economic conditions in general, Mr. Roosevelt said all federal agencies involved were pushing toward top speed by the first of the month.

PWA Going Ahead

PWA, he asserted, was going ahead as fast as it could. WPA would have as many as possible of its recently authorized 400,000 new workers enrolled by that time, and the Civilian Conservation Corps was nearing its 350,000 full strength. Other agencies with lesser programs were hitting a fast pace, too, he added.

Describing unemployment as a continuing problem, the chief executive said no country has developed a permanent solution of it. The only seemingly 100 per cent solution of keeping all employables at work all the time, he added, was to pile up armaments.

That, Mr. Roosevelt declared, is no permanent solution because it involves the manufacture of goods which do not produce wealth.

The president, who was busy today writing two speeches to be delivered in New York City tomorrow, said the wages and hours bill, which became law Saturday, was the most important act of Congress during the last two or three years with perhaps the exception of the social security act.

Elsworth Ethridge Passed Away Near Polo Tuesday Morn

Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, June 29.—Funeral services for Elsworth Elmer Ethridge, 76, who passed away at the home of his son Samuel Ethridge near here yesterday morning at 9:30, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Samuel Ethridge home and at 2:30 at the First Brethren church at Lanark. Rev. George T. Roach of Lanark and Rev. Dale Doolen of the Brick church will officiate and burial will be in the Lanark cemetery.

Mr. Ethridge had been ill with pneumonia for the past week. He came to Eagle Point with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ethridge, about 8 years ago. He spent his life as a farmer.

He was born April 26, 1862 at Mosinee, Wis., the son of Lucy and James Ethridge. February 5, 1385 he was married to Achsa Etta Powell of near Lanark. His wife and two sons preceded him in death.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hazel Daehler of Shannon, Mrs. Grace Haley of Lanark; four sons, Glenn of Colorado, Joseph and Paul of Rockford and Samuel of Polo.

Mr. Ethridge was a member of the First Brethren church of Lanark.

ORDER BRITISH DESTROYERS TO MALLORCA BASE

Believed Gesture To Placate Opposition To Chamberlain

London, June 29.—(AP)—Two British destroyers, the Imogen and the Isis, were ordered suddenly to Mallorca today from Gibraltar.

The admiral described the movement as "routine" in connection with the Nyon anti-piracy patrol. The Italian-operated airplane base at Palma, Mallorca, is the source of many of the insurgent air raids on the coast of government Spain and British shipping in Spanish waters. Mallorca is 150 miles east of Spain.

Observers connected the movement of the destroyers with reports from Rome that Premier Mussolini had intervened with insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco in an effort to halt attacks on British vessels.

Both Mussolini's action and the admiral's were believed to be results of increasing pressure on Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain at home to do something to stop the attacks. While warships are privileged to call at Mallorca at any time it was believed the present movement was in the nature of a "gesture" to command the insurgents' attention and at the same time quiet opposition in Parliament.

Opposition members of Parliament have been getting more and more sarcastic in asking where the British navy was while ships flying the Union Jack were being sunk.

SOFT PEDALS FRANCO

Rome, June 29.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Fascist regime declared today that Italy had advised General Francisco Franco, the Spanish insurgent leader, to use "moderation" in his efforts to prevent British and other foreign ships from bringing supplies to government Spain.

The spokesman, the noted Editor Virginio Gayda, said, however, that Italy approved of the bombing of vessels carrying contraband but disclaimed any Italian responsibility therefor.

In an inspired article in the Giornale D'Italia, Gayda disclosed the content of the conversation last night between the Earl of Perth, Britain's ambassador, and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

The editor said Ciano told Lord Perth that Franco already had taken a series of measures to give the British government satisfaction with regard to the long list of bombings of British ships, against which—London has protested vigorously.

These measures, Gayda said, were:

First, Franco had given orders that British ships would not be attacked while navigating.

Second, he had ordered that the British flag be respected as far as possible in Spanish government ports.

Third, Franco was willing to name free ports in western Spain (insurgent-held) where "honest traffic" would have free entry.

The Perth-Ciano conference produced speculations that it might bring an end to air raids on British merchantmen in Spanish waters.

BARTON URGES REPUBLICANS TO WIN FAITH

Would Accept Sound New Deal Reforms; Reject Others

Indianapolis, June 29.—(AP)—Rep. Bruce Barton (R-NY) said today the "mass feeling" of faith—whether "well founded or ill-founded"—in President Roosevelt was "the controlling political influence of our day," and advised the Republican party to try to capture that faith for itself.

In a plain-spoken keynote speech prepared for the Indiana state Republican convention, Barton projected a party campaign program which would accept the New Deal reforms deemed "sound," but would put national administration back in the hands of a "Republican party cleansed, chastened, re-dedicated to service."

He told the convention that to ignore the president's popular appeal was "blindness; to inveigh against it is political insanity." "Give us a plan," the people cry. "Show us a picture," he went on. "Here, in broad outlines, is the Republican picture:

"We see a land in which no more great fortunes are likely to be amassed; a land where those who now have great fortunes will be compelled to put those fortunes into production for the public good, or to have them legally redistributed.

"But it is a land where the power to tax, which has been rightly termed, 'The Power to Destroy,' is used not to destroy but to stimulate.

Other Problems Rife

" * * * We see a land where the farm problem and the railroad problem and the tariff problem, the housing problem and the relief problem are treated not as separate problems but as integral parts of the greater whole. We see our soil conserved by federal aid; we see facilities for the free storage of plus crops; we see an end to the program of scarcity. * * *

"But we see railroads rehabilitated and tens of thousands of unemployed workers back at work—not by the strangulation process of higher rates, but by the life-giving process of very low rates. * * *

Prosperity, as every sensible man knows, consists of volume multiplied by velocity. To attempt recovery while at the same time you

Multi-Millionaire's Father- In-Law Applies For Relief

Middletown, R. I., June 29.—(AP)—Francis O. French, father-in-law of multi-millionaire John Jacob Astor, 3rd, says he is "down to my last $15," that his position is "desperate" and that he is willing to work for the WPA.

He said he would do "a laborer's task if necessary, to earn a living for myself and my wife."

Spurning aid from his daughter, Ellen Tuck French Astor, and her wealthy husband, he has applied for relief.

The only two projects in operation are pick and shovel jobs, road construction and sewer laying.

ATTEMPTS TO ALTER LAGER BILL BEATEN

Defeats Project To In- crease Power Of I. E. R. C.

BULLETIN

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—(AP)—The house passed a compromise drivers' license bill with bipartisan support on a 119 to 8 roll call today, sending it back to the senate for concurrence tomorrow in amendments.

The financial responsibility bill, a companion measure, then passed, 128 to 4.

An hour's debate preceded the passage of the highway safety plan, under which Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes would issue the licenses to motorists and Governor Horner's highway division would administer other phases of the law.

Springfield, Ill., June 29.—(AP)—Attempts to alter the Lager house bill to revise relief regulations and increase power of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission were defeated today in the senate, which is scheduled to pass the measure tomorrow.

Senator R. Wallace Karraker, Jonesboro Democrat, voted against his own proposal that Leo M. Lyons be prohibited from holding two jobs—executive secretary of the IERC and Chicago Relief Administrator.

George C. Dixon, Dixon Republican, failed to insert a provision that the IERC couldn't withhold federal commodities from the seven counties, including Lee, which don't get state relief grants.

Passed by the senate and sent to Governor Horner were the Wilson-Hunter-Hunter Rockford relief bills and the Gibbs measure relieving debt limitations for city street work.

The Rockford bills would permit supervisors to issue bonds against relief debts and require permission before poor overseers spend more than tax revenues.

The rest of the Democratic agreed program was advanced to third reading, ready for final passage tomorrow. Senator Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democrat, announced he amended the Chicago $2,500,000 gas tax diversion-relief bills so that only the metropolis would be penalized if federal matching grants are withheld.

Also advanced in the senate was the Parker-Davis $1,000,000 high school appropriation.

STOCK BUYING BROKE RECORD IN EXCHANGE

New York, June 29.—(AP)—Buying again swelled to record breaking proportions for 1938 in the New York stock exchange today, hurling prices of leading issues up $1 to $6 a share, many to peak prices for the peak prices for the year.

Building material, steel, agricultural, chemical and various industrial led the advance, but it broadened to include virtually the entire list, with rails and utilities registering the widest gains in months.

The turnover approximated 2,700,000 shares, largest for any day since October. After wavering for the past two days, the market resumed last week's advance with striking vigor.

In the last hour, U. S. Steel advanced more than $3 to above $56, Bethlehem Steel, nearly $4 to close to $60; Chrysler nearly $4 to above $59; Westinghouse Electric jumped $6 to $98, and a similar advance carried Dupont above $119; Union Pacific was up $4 to $82 and Santa Fe $3 to $33; Johns Manville jumped nearly $5 to $92, and American Telephone more than $2.50 to $142. Both Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck advanced about $3 to new highs for 1938. Dow Chemical surged up $10 to $120.

And now you're an ancient Egyptian slave but please don't mind that because the pyramid we're building is fun and it won't take two hundred years. As you see, the building procedure is a bit queer because we start at the top and work down.

We use a one letter word for the top, a two letter word just below which is gotten by adding a new letter to the first, then a three letter word which has one new letter etc.

The guiding definitions are: 1. One. 2. An article. 3. Hurried. 4. Mend. 5. Magnificent. 6. Aligned. 7. Provoked. 8. Trait. 9. Created. 10. Deteriorate.

A member of a musical family, in which her youthful talents were somewhat overshadowed by the brilliant piano work of a brother Adele did not gain recognition until, while a student in high school, she was awarded a scholarship at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wisconsin. Her work on the piano and in vocal was outstanding and she later she entered the Northwestern University school of music studying under Peter C. Lutken and Frederick Stock.

Mrs. Allsopp has had several years experience as a teacher and concert artist. She was for some time a member of the Birchwood Music club of Chicago.

BAND RATED EXCELLENT

The inspecting officer's report covering the recent annual federal inspection of the 129th infantry band has been received by Captain Bronson, which reads as follows: "Deficiencies of previous inspection corrected, except that drill hall remains entirely inadequate. No deficiencies of technical inspection of ordinance. Military courtesy and military appearance excellent. Musical instruction excellent and under capable and interested leadership. Instruction and practice in marching and march formations is limited by the inadequacy of the drill hall. All other instruction is very satisfactory."

The letter of transmittal to Captain Bronson also carried the following indorsements: "The division commander notes with pleasure this excellent report. By command of Major General Keen." "I concur in the within report. Diller S. Myers, brigadier general."

The band boys feel amply rewarded for their diligent application to military and musical subjects during the winter months and Captain Bronson and his staff are deeply appreciative of the cheerful cooperation and attention to details by the rank and file which has made so fine a showing possible.

Much credit is due Technical Sergeant Chester Holland and Staff Sergeant Lee Douglas for the manner in which they have carried out the training program.

Dick Countryman spent Tuesday and Thursday of the past week in Dixon with relatives.

Betty Sheller of Dixon is spending the week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wales Sheller.

U. S. PAYS PRICE FOR NEGLIGENCE OF GOVERNMENT

New York, June 28.—(AP)—

Rep. Bruce Barton (R-NY) told the National Education Association convention today that "we are paying the price in this country of 50 years of the neglect of government on the part of our so-called best people."

"You and I have had less interest in government than our fathers had," he said. "Our children have less than we."

"The result has been a drying up of the sense of individual and community responsibility, and altogether too much surrender of rights and activities to Washington."

He said a resident of a western city had told him of discussion groups formed there by and for the young people, to cover the principal problems and interests of modern life.

"It was found that two subjects, and only two, would pack the hall. These were the problems of love and marriage, and the problems of getting and keeping a job."

"In the discussion of religion there was little interest. In the discussion of politics there was positive interest at all."

George Stoddard, director of the Child Welfare Research Station at Iowa City, Iowa, told the teachers that a young child's "I. Q." can be changed for the better under favorable environmental conditions.

Stoddard reported recent tests contradicting the old theory that the intelligence endowment of birth continues immutably throughout life.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Certainly, although it may take a skilled psychologist to aid.

2. No. If the colony be undeveloped—as, for instance, Ethiopia—it will absorb population for a time but it has the astonishing effect of setting up a new birth release and increasing the population back home and, since the colony soon becomes filled up, it is a vicious circle. If the colony is developed, such as Australia or South Africa, the new immigrants are always of a lower economic class and reduce the birth rate rapidly among the citizens of the colonies to which they go. The thing just won't work—but no statesman on earth understands these tangle laws of population.

Answer to Question No. 2

3. Of course this is largely a play on words but differences about money are the root of a host of marriage evils. If two people start out to conserve every dollar wisely for the future, it helps immensely to make the marriage happy, but if one or both either spends too much or is dogmatic about how to invest it, it means trouble.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hopkins entertained a number of relatives for Mr. Hopkins' father, Will Hopkins, on Sunday, the occasion being his 60th birthday. A chicken dinner was served at noon and Mr. Hopkins' daughter, Mrs. Hagen, presented the honored guest with a beautiful decorated cake.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hagen of Eureka; Mrs. Carl Johann and children of Chicago; Bernadine Hagen of Madison, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hagen of Atkinson; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hopkins, Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bolbeck, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kranov, Kasbeer;

Glen Hopkins and family and Henry Stute. Many kodak pictures were taken and the afternoon was spent socially. Before the guests departed for home Mrs.

Travers-Slothower Nuptials of May 14 Announced Today

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Jean Travers, registered nurse at the Dixon State Hospital, and Vincent Slothower, principal and agriculture instructor at the Ashton high school, May 14, in Clinton, Iowa.

The bride was graduated from the Dixon State Hospital training school for nurses in 1936. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Travers of Olney, Ill. Mr. Slothower is a son of Mayor and Mrs. William Slothower, who resides at 312 Douglas avenue.

The couple plan to make their home in Ashton, where they will be at home early in the fall.

Lions Club Members to be Dinner-Dance Hosts This Evening

More than 50 reservations have been made for the Ladies' Night dinner dance which members of the Dixon Lions club have arranged for this evening at the Dixon Country club. R. A. Congor is to act as toastmaster during the dinner hour at 7:30, and special music will be furnished by an accordion and vocal trio.

Dr. E. C. Turner of Savannah, governor of district No. 1 A, will be present to install new officers for the coming year. Later in the evening, the guests may choose between dancing and bridge.

Dr. R. E. Worsley has arranged the program.

DIXON COUPLE WEDS IN CLINTON

Miss Margaret Helen Gentry, elder daughter of Mrs. Margaret Clayton of rural route 3, Dixon, and George Hobbs, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hobbs, of 905 Palmyra avenue, were united in marriage Saturday morning at the Lyons Methodist Episcopal church in Clinton, Iowa. The Rev. J. J. Hofman read the single ring ceremony at 10 o'clock.

The bride wore navy georgette with white accessories. The bridegroom's parents accompanied the couple to Clinton and were their only attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs will reside with their parents.

CHICAGOANS ARE ENTERTAINED

The visit of Mr. and Mrs. William Gruber of Chicago at the home of his sister, Mrs. Margaret Harden of Nelson, has been the incentive for almost constant entertaining since their arrival last week. Mr. Gruber lived in this vicinity during his boyhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt School were hosts to the visitors yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams of Palmyra entertained on Monday for the Grubers, Mrs. Harden and Mrs. Florence Bollman, and on Sunday, the Chicagoans were guests of Mrs. Bollman at Nelson.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Miss Emmert, July Bride-to-be

Miss Alice Elizabeth Emmert, who is to become Mrs. Robert Wadsworth next month, found numerous gift packages awaiting her at a variety shower given last evening by her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Shuck, 1022 West Seventh street. The bride-to-be was named for her aunt, the former Miss Alice McClanahan.

Nearly 30 friends were included on the guest list, and each contributed recipes and household hints for the honoree's kitchen file. Brown and white appointments were used for a tray lunch.

Several other pre-nuptial courtesies are being planned for Miss Emmert, including a miscellaneous shower which Miss Evelyn Killian has arranged for this evening at her home south of Dixon. Close friends and former schoolmates of the bride-elect are to be included on the guest list, and will also be honoring Miss Emmert again tomorrow evening at a similar party at the home of Miss Erma Weed, 611 College avenue. Mrs. Arthur Esterday of Nachusa avenue has issued invitations for a neighborhood party on Friday evening.

True Blue Class has Picnic and Election

The True Blue class of the First Christian church was picnicking yesterday noon at the Straw cabin at Palmyra. Thirty-eight members and guests circled the rustic log table for the basket dinner.

Election of next year's officers featured the afternoon business meeting, during which the group was seated near the hearth fire. Mrs. Harry Reitzel, the class president, was reelected, as were her co-officers of the past year, including: Mrs. Frank Geach, secretary; Mrs. James Leach, assistant secretary, and Mrs. H. W. Taylor, treasurer. Mrs. Carl Straw and Miss Bess Johnson were reappointed to serve as teachers.

Mrs. Charles Mumma of 121 East Everett street will entertain in July.

CELEBRATES NINTH ANNIVERSARY

The ninth birthday anniversary of Carol Greene, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Greene of 514 West First, was celebrated yesterday with an afternoon party planned by her mother. Games were fun from 2:30 o'clock until time for the birthday lunch, served at a pink and white table with candy flowers and toy balloons as favors at each place.

Pictures were taken of the group with Carol's new camera, a birthday remembrance from her parents. Gifts were also brought by the guests, who were Roberta Espy, Dolores Hill, Joan Whitlow, Margaret Scanlan, Betty Shaver, Donna Lou Mahan, Justine Magnafici, Mary Emma Goodman, Caroline Loyer of Galena, who is visiting at the Whitlow home, Mrs. William Mahan, and Mrs. Lewis Combs.

WILL SKATE AT LOCAL RINK

Richard Whitney sponsored a private skating party last evening at the open air rink here. The Misses Ruth Barton and Charlotte Drew will entertain 20 or more guests this evening. Larry Poole of Poole Laundry has reserved the rink for Thursday evening, and on Friday evening, a group from Amboy, headed by Bernard C. Oilman, will hold a skating party.

PRE-NUP TIAL COUTESIES

Mrs. C. H. Bokhof, whose marriage to Leonard Underwood of Portland, Ore., formerly of Dixon, is to take place soon, will be guest of honor at dinner Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Devine. Covers will also be laid for Mrs. Warren C. Durkes and Miss Grace Steel.

The Bastille was built between 1370 and 1383.

Make Endearing Cotton Frock

Marian Martin
PATTERN 9763

Wear white this summer, and be fashionable. Pattern 9763 gives the latest slant. Why not make it in white cotton with a brilliant sash or "corset" belt? See how astoundingly chic and unusual the neckline is, for all its simplicity. And notice that the side closing calls for jaunty buttons on the bodice and the skirt (which opens flat to simplify ironing). Such a cool, action-loving dress, ready for a tennis match, a regatta or a summer luncheon party! Make it of firm broadcloth, a slub of cotton or linen. You can sew it up in no time!

Pattern 9763 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 16 requires 3½ yards 36 inch fabric, and ½ yard contrast for sash.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

See our Marian Martin Pattern Book of Summer Styles before deciding on your summer wardrobe! Designed for you, for every occasion, this collection of beautifully-fitting patterns contains all those up-to-the-minute styles that you have been looking for. Fashion firsts for daughters and mothers; cool breezy frocks for glorious vacation trips or a summer at home; vivacious play-time styles are included. Write for your copy today. Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together twenty-five cents.

NELSON COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS

Colored stereopticon slides, "Making the Good Earth Pay Dividend," were shown by F. A. Hanson at the June meeting of the Nelson Community club Monday evening. The Eldena band furnished special music.

Edward Bollman, the club president, conducted the business meeting. Committees were appointed for the next three months, including: Program, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hallenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bollman, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buckalo; refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCleary, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sweitzer.

Ice cream bars were served by Mesdames Earl Shaffer, Ella Phillips and E. B. Starrett. Plans will be made for the annual August picnic at the next meeting scheduled for July 25.

RETURNS FROM SUMMER CAMP

Miss Cathryn Buchner returned last night from Lake Geneva, Wis., after attending a summer conference of the Young Women's Christian Association for the past ten days. Five hundred young women, representing every state in the union, enrolled for the camp.

Miss Buchner, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Buchner of 317 East Everett, was president of the Young Women's Christian Association while attending MacMurray college in Jacksonville.

ENTERTAINS AT McKIM COTTAGE

Jack McKim was host at a stag party last evening at his cottage at Grand Detour. Guests included Graydon and Bradley Moll, John Crabtree, and Charles Ross.

WILL HAVE DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. Harry White will be a dinner hostess of this evening. Her guests will number Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Evans, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leake.

WILL VISIT MOTHER OVER FOURTH

Miss Merma Suter of Chicago will spend the Fourth of July week end with her mother, Mrs. Frank Suter of 114 Dixon avenue. She is expected to arrive Friday evening.

HERE AND THERE
Mr. and Mrs. Adam Faber were Sunday dinner guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Adrian Knapp and family of near Byron.

Mrs. Emma Hallam and Miss Nellie Larson of Shabbona were guests at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. A. C. Nankivill and family several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hart, daughter Rosemary and son Wayne were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. Hart's mother, Mrs. Katie J. Hart. Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mrs. Hart were: Mr. and Mrs. Orville Thompson and daughters, Alice and Pauline, of near Steward. Pauline Thompson had spent the past week with her grandmother, Mrs. Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, daughters, Gail and Donna Marie, and sons, LaVerne and Lyle of near Creston, called at the home of Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Dora Smith on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Vaux, son Wallace and daughter Phyllis spent Sunday afternoon at Sullivan Valley. They were supper guests at the P. N. Bass home.

Wilbur Clayton, Joseph Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clayton, Miss Helen Clayton and Mrs. Alvin W. Krug motored to Ottawa Sunday where they visited Mrs. Claude Clayton of Amboy, who is a patient at the sanitarium there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlain and son, Charles Jr. of DeKalb were entertained Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chamberlain's mother, Mrs. Tony Reitz. They also called at the home of Mrs. Chamberlain's sister, Mrs. Frank Musselman and family.

Mrs. Addie Gilbert was a business caller at Wheaton several days this week.

Roller skating under the big tent at Dixon every afternoon and evening. Private parties any night. (Adv.)

Mr. and Mrs. Orno J. Kersten, daughter, Frances and son, John, enjoyed dinner Tuesday noon at the home of Mrs. Kersten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Packler of Sterling. The dinner honored the sixteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Kersten.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Butler were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Walter of Reynolds township. On Sunday evening George Koch and daughters, Mary Jane and Rita Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fuller and family and the Charles Becker family visited at the Walter home.

Miss LuEva Parker who visited the past week at Rockford, returned to her home Sunday evening. Miss Parker will spend the week end in Rockford.

Mrs. Harry Granger and sons, Eugene and Bob of Stockton have been visiting the past two weeks at the Fred J. Kersten home south east of town. Mrs. Granger and Mrs. Kersten are sisters. Mrs. Granger and sons will leave tomorrow for Lake Kaskoon, near Port Atkinson, Wis., for a visit with the former's daughter, Mrs. George Binkert.

Mrs. Martha Krehl of Denver, Colo. visited at the home of Mrs. Katie J. Hart on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Krehl formerly resided in this vicinity and has been visiting relatives and friends here and in Amboy and Dixon.

Mrs. A. C. Nankivill and sons, Gilbert and Arland, and Mrs. Earl Vogel of this place, accompanied by Miss Nellie Larson and Mrs. Emma Hallam of Shabbona motored to Dubuque, Iowa and visited with Mr. Nankivill's mother. They also went to Dickeyville to the Grotto.

Mrs. Elizabeth Halane of Lexington, Ill. is visiting this week at the home of her niece and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Scharpf and sons, Donald and Richard were Sunday dinner guests at the home of John A. Kersten and Mr. and Mrs. Orno J. Kersten. The Scharps and Kerstens attended the Heibenthal-Huene wedding which took place at the Evangelical church Sunday afternoon.

The preliminary game played at Kersten's ball park on Monday evening of this week was a battle between Jenkins Skinners and Jeter's All Stars. Ralph Williams pitched for the Skinners and Donald Scharpf for the All Stars. The Skinners won the game by a score of 11 to 4. On Friday evening of this week the All-Stars will play Williams Trimmers. These boys teams are looking forward toward some good games during the season.

Residents of this village who arose early last Friday morning, witnessed a scene which might have proven quite disastrous. About 4:30 that morning during the electrical storm, lightning struck an electric wire near the Griffith Lumber Company with the result that the wire broke and fell to the ground about ten feet from the long lumber shed. The live wire burned quite a hole in the ground before linemen from Amboy came to make the needed repairs. Telephone and electric service were both impaired for a time. The Ashton fire department had been called but could do nothing more than be on hand to protect the buildings in case the fire should spread.

That same morning a large transport truck in trying to avoid the water standing on the pavement near the Adam Witzel service station, overturned on that corner. It was nearly noon before the truck was righted and the cab was taken to a local garage for repair. The contents of the truck were removed to smaller trucks and taken on. No one was injured but the contents of the truck were greatly damaged.

The residence of Mrs. Caroline Vaupel is in the hands of the painters which improves her property very much. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Yenerich has received a second coat of paint and since being completed adds greatly to the appearance of their property.

During the absence of C. H. O'May last evening the band was directed by Mrs. Otto W. Schade for their weekly rehearsal. Mr. O'May is a patient in the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital so Mrs. Schade kindly consented to assist in the direction of the Ashton municipal band.

THE "OPPRESSED" MINORITY IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Most of us are pretty cynical nowadays about that great slogan of the World War—"Make the world safe for democracy."

By and large, there is substantially less democracy in Europe now than there was in 1914, and the democracy that remains seems in a fair way to diminish. If those four horrible years were indeed devoted to saving democracy, one can only say that they were tragically wasted.

Yet there is one spot in Europe which has democracy now and which did not have it in 1914—whose democracy is, in fact, a direct result of the war and does justify the wartime slogan. That spot is Czechoslovakia. And now, that the pressure is being put on, no American can fail to have a keen interest in Czechoslovakia's democracy and its gallant fight to survive.

Indeed, America is by way of being that nation's godfather. Masaryk, the man who founded the Czech republic and became its first president, did the bulk of his work in America. The country's constitution was written in America, its independence was proclaimed in Washington, and the active sympathy of our government was one of the chief reasons why that independence was made good. And Czechoslovakia, incidentally, is one of the few spots in Europe where the name of Woodrow Wilson is still remembered gratefully.

All of which simply means that in that one place the high ideals which brought America into the war have actually justified themselves. The cause of human freedom—which, in the long run, means human happiness—was actually advanced by the allied victory there. Czechoslovakia's independent existence is to be cherished as one of the few indisputably valuable fruits of the World War.

Now that independence is menaced by Nazi Germany; and it might be as well for Americans to understand just how hypocritical is the Nazi concern over the "oppressed" German minority in Czechoslovakia.

First of all, that minority is probably the least oppressed minority in all of Europe. It enjoys free speech, a free press, freedom to come and go as its members please; it is hard to see how the Czech government could give it a fairer break and still retain its own existence.

Secondly, there exists nearby a German minority which undeniably is oppressed—the Germans of the Italian Tyrol. If Nazi concern for abused compatriots living under foreign tyranny were sincere, it would be Italy and not Czechoslovakia which would be the target of German pressure right now.

What is going on is simply a bare-faced attempt at conquest, with even less to justify it than there was in the case of the Italian seizure of Ethiopia. Considering all the facts, it is hard to see how any American's sympathies can fail to lie 100 per cent with the Czechs in this crisis.

USE YOUR HEAD

The ghastly day approaches. Everybody is now set to handle the firecracker with a 10-foot pole—and then take the car out for a 40-mile-an-hour spin in holiday traffic.

Ho hum—another one of those annual Fourth of July editorials. Yawn away, brother.

But don't—if you aren't quite ready yet to settle down into that eternal sleep—don't get caught napping on the 4th of July. And it might even be worth your while to keep your wits every day in the month.

For this is the most murderous month of the year. For five years more people have died of accidental causes in July than in any other month. July days are the heydays for traffic accidents, for drownings, for fireworks injuries, of course, and for fatal falls.

More than two and a half times as many persons were slain by man's stupidity and carelessness last July as lost their lives during the entire Revolutionary War. One million were injured.

Yawn—if you can—in the face of that!

PROTECTOR

The world certainly has some knotty problems in morality on its mind these days.

Consider, for instance, the sad situation the leaders of Japan find themselves in. The younger generation has taken to doing modern ballroom dancing. The elders want Japan to be a genuinely modern nation with modern ideas, but dance halls, they are certain, are places that breed only unholy thoughts. And dancing in the modern manner, they are convinced, is wicked per se.

The gentlemen have their hands full these days—stamping out threats to the morality of youth at home, and stamping out the Chinese abroad.

Now maybe if the youth of Japan would turn its attention from dancing to the problem of morals presented by their elders' behavior in China, everything would shape around fine.

WASHINGTON—With the Public Works Administration in full swing again, the old game of chiseling in on government contracts has started.

It is not supposed to be known, but PWA has a blacklist of contractors, architects, and others who have chiseled the government, and once they are on the list they cannot get another contract.

This list is the result of the fact that it is difficult for the Federal Government to punish PWA contractors once the contract has been let, for the reason that in most cases the contract is signed between the contractor and a municipal or state government.

If PWA discovers chiseling, however, it can refuse payments. This it does, for instance, when an architect charges an 8 per cent instead of a 6 per cent fee. If the local community wants to pay the larger fee, it has to do so out of its own funds.

Before a company is put on the blacklist it is permitted a complete hearing. But unless it can clear itself, the company can get no more PWA contracts, even when let through local governments.

Blushing Bridegroom

Washington newsmen, who after five years experience have learned to expect the unexpected from Secretary Harold Ickes, have discovered something new about him. He can—and does—blush.

They made the discovery at his first press conference after returning from the European honeymoon. Ickes was a few minutes late and as he stepped into his office, the large gathering of reporters rose and applauded, while several of them whistled "Here Comes the Bride."

Ickes grinned broadly and then blushed a deep red.

His customary aplomb returned quickly, however. After the photographers had exploded flashlight bulbs in his face for nearly ten minutes, he finally broke out, "Ye gods, I thought all the bulbs in the country had been used up on me in the last few days. You boys had better quit now; I don't want to monopolize the picture business."

"But, Mr. Secretary," called out a reporter, "you ought to encourage consumption. Isn't that part of the spending program?"

McNutt for Senator
Don't be surprised if Philippine High Commissioner Paul McNutt suddenly pops up in Indiana as the Democratic candidate against anti-New Deal Senator Fred Van Nuys.

Some of his close friends are urging him to get into the race. One of them has been burning up the cables with this advice.

When McNutt was in the U. S. last winter his political master minds were against his going into the Senate, on the theory that a term there might blight instead of boost his presidential ambitions. But some of them now feel differently.

They think it would be good strategy for him to be in Washington. It would give him a chance to strengthen his labor record, one of his weak spots, and also provide him with a forum to keep active in the public eye.

If McNutt does decide he wants the senatorial nomination, there is little doubt that the Indiana Democratic convention next month will give it to him.

Several weeks ago the state party moguls, after much canvassing of the field, finally decided on Lieutenant Governor Henry F. Schriker as the standard-bearer against Van Nuys. He expressed his willingness to run, but would be sure to get out of the picture if McNutt threw his hat into the ring.

Hanes Labor

John Hanes, hard-working SEC commissioner and owner of the largest orchard farm in the USA, continues to be the most sought after man in the Administration. Secretary Morgenthau wants him to become Under Secretary of the Treasury, while Bill Douglas, Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, wants him to remain with the SEC until certain questions of stock market trading are completely settled.

The other day all three got together for a good-natured argument. Morgenthau said he wanted Hanes to come to the Treasury July 1. Douglas said he could not spare him until January 1. Hanes said: "This is an argument I want to keep completely clear of."

Finally Morgenthau proposed that beginning July 1 Hanes work at the SEC in the morning and at the Treasury in the afternoon.

"But what will I do with all my spare time?" suggested Hanes, who never leaves his desk until 8 P. M. even now.

Probably, however, this will be the final compromise.

Wheat Loan

You can bet your hat that the wheat loan, to be announced in the next few days, will be at the minimum figure of 60 cents a bushel. In fact, if AAA officials could make it less than that, they would do so.

All its life the New Deal has been heaping ridicule on the Old Deal Farm Board, and now it stands on the brink of "committing a Farm Board" itself. If the loan is any higher than 60 cents, it would peg the domestic price above the world price, and the export flow would back up into a stagnant market.

That is precisely what happened with the Farm Board in 1929. They made loans on wheat at levels above world prices. Farmers continued to plant heavily, surpluses piled up, and by 1931 the Government had 250,000,000 bushels of actual wheat on hand and a lot of wheat futures.

The President called in Wallace the other day and asked him to scratch around for additional export outlets for wheat. Outlets are scarce in the face of an indicated four billion-bushel world crop, but any that Wallace may find would be crippled if U. S. wheat sells too high for the world market.

This condition would make subsidies necessary. If Uncle Sam pays subsidies to force wheat out into world trade, he is both robbing Peter to pay Paul and robbing Paul to pay Peter.

It is a tight situation at the moment, but it will be a lot easier a year from now. The AAA has the weapons to force wheat acreage down from 80 to 55 million, and any grower who does not comply with acreage allotments will be heavily out of pocket.

The AAA will purchase farmers' compliance, to avoid in 1939 the hot water of 1938.

Merry-Go-Round

Bureau of Census is laying off a lot of clerks to give jobs to WPA workers under the new employment drive. Many of the Census clerks are completing the merry-go-round by running over to WPA and signing up for relief. . . The Virgin Islands Company, learning the tricks of the trade, is putting out a light rum as well as a dark rum. They found that, although the light rum is inferior in age and quality, the ladies prefer it because it makes a prettier drink.

pleting their registration and entrance into camp as follows:

They deposited their luggage near the flag pole and at the registration table paid the remainder of their fee and received a receipt and assignment to their tent quarters.

At their tent quarters, they reported to their camp troop Scoutmaster who assigned them to their tents and cots where they changed into bathing suits and next reported to the First Aid Lodge.

At the first aid lodge the Scouts were again carefully checked for physical fitness by a corps of physicians assisting the camp doctor. From here the Scouts reported to the waterfront director on the lake-shore swimming area, where they were given a swimming test and classified for group instruction in swimming and life saving during the week.

Also, boating and canoeing instruction to older Scouts with exceptional swimming ability. The Scouts then reported to their tent quarters where they were organized into provisional troops under camp troop Scoutmasters, assistants, senior patrol leaders, etc.

The Scouts are housed in 37 new four-boy tents, each with a wooden floor and two double-deck cots. Tents are located in the timber in irregular arrangement and this gives the boys a real camping-out experience.

Their Camp Scoutmasters then organized their patrols with patrol leaders and gave them instructions for proper uniforming and formations for the evening color ceremony.

J. S. RETURNS FOR EXCURSION OUT OF CLINTON, IA.

Local dance devotees will have another opportunity to do their "trunkin'" to the tuneful rhythm furnished by the "Mississippi Serenaders" when the big Streckfus excursion Steamer "J. S." returns for its second visit of the season.

The steamer, commanded by Capt. Verne Streckfus, spends the summer season between Louisiana, Mo. and Red Wing, Minn., and its coming is always an occasion for a gay dance party in Mississippi River towns.

The Mississippi Serenaders will be remembered for their broad repertoire of the latest thing in "swing." These versatile colored music makers offer a varied program of dance rhythm, including numbers of their own improvisation in both swing and waltz music. No troupe of syncopators has ever won a more favorable response from river-going dance crowds, according to Capt. Streckfus, who has seen musicians from the excursion fleet go on to national fame in the entertainment world.

"The J. S., according to its 'skipper,' is enjoying one of its best seasons, with banner crowds turning out in carnival mood for its popular starlight dance trips. Boasting one of the river's largest floating ballrooms, the 'J. S.' also is one of the most colorful excursion steamers of the big Streckfus fleet. It is widely known for its cool, spacious decks, equipped with deep comfortable steamer chairs, lounges and gliders, and for the profusion of potted plants which ornament its decks.

happy moments, and it is certainly most fortunately timed for the forthcoming election," he told a political rally last night when he urged voters to "take a hand at experiment" by ousting the New Deal.

"It might prove the experiment that saved the freedom of men in a great nation," said Hoover, who answered President Roosevelt's recent plea for liberal support by declaring the administration program "would choke any definition of liberalism hitherto known."

The former president's unaided attack upon the administration came during a rally for John Z. Anderson of San Juan, candidate for the Republican nomination in the eighth California district.

San Jose, Calif., June 28—(AP)—In the opinion of former President Herbert Hoover, frequent New Deal baiter, the administration's new spending-lending program is "another experimental shot in the arm to produce recovery, despite the failure of the last and bigger dose."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. $66.

Stubbornly refuse anything else.

ALL-STAR TILT CHOICES IRK TWO CITIES

Trosky, Fitzsimmons Left Out of Lineup For Contest

New York, June 29—(AP)—The loudest laments in the wake of the naming of the squads for the all-star game at Cincinnati July 5 come from Cleveland and, of all places, Brooklyn.

Cleveland fans are beefing because their sterling first baseman, Hal Trosky, was left off the American League roster, and the Brooklyn addies are boiling because fat Freddie Fitzsimmons, the veteran knuckleballer, was given the go-by when the National League chose its best.

Trosky, while no bargain as a fielder, has been leveling the fences all season, and at the moment is second only to his teammate Earl Averil, among American League sluggers. He is banging the ball far ahead of the three first-basemen who were picked by the American leaguers—Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg and Lou Gehrig.

Burling Grimes, Brooklyn manager, is as sore as the flatbush fans about the "slighting" of Fitzsimmons by his former bosom pal, Bill Terry, who made the final selection of the National League team he will handle in the big one-day engagement.

"Everybody knows that Fitz would knock those American Leaguers silly for three innings," Grimes fumed.

Better Reason to Kick Cleveland would appear to have been a more meritorious protest on the excursion of Trosky. Taking the batting figures at their face value, there would be no way of leaving him off. Still, this observer has a hunch he saw Trosky beating himself out of an all-star place more than a month ago.

Cleveland was having a pre-game batting practice at the Yankee stadium, and Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yanks was watching from the dugout. All except Trosky took full swings. The Indians slugger, peeved because the practice pitcher wasn't placing the ball where he wanted it, just stuck out his bat a couple of times and then slouched away.

"What would you do to a player who acted like that?" someone asked McCarthy. McCarthy discharged a jet of tobacco juice at a convenient post and said nothing, but his silence was eloquent. He made the final choice of the American League squad.

Ross' Fight Pilots Groom Tony Zale As Middleweight

Chicago, June 29—(AP)—Sam Plan and Art Winch who piloted Barney Ross to the world lightweight and welterweight championships, are going to send Tony Zale, hard-hitting Gary, Ind., youngster, after the middleweight title. Plan and Winch have signed Zale to a five-year contract.

Ward Smith Moves To No. 11 Position On Tennis Ladder

Ward Smith advanced to No. 11 position on the tennis ladder Tuesday by defeating Robert Buxton 6-0, 6-2, relegating Buxton to the No. 14 spot. Smith then challenged Charles Kearney, No. 8, but failed to dislodge Kearney from that position losing in a three-set match 6-3, 7-9, 6-1.

R. A. Joslyn slowly climbed toward the top again after his recent fall to No. 6 spot after a match with Champion George Covert, by defeating Alan Wienman and then Garland Sinow. Joslyn is now No. 4 on the ladder. Covert beat off the recent challenge of Ken Smith, No. 3, who is trying to regain the pinnacle.

Budge To Tackle Austin For Title

Wimbledon, Eng., June 29—(AP)—Don Budge, holder of the world's four major tennis titles, stroked his way into the finals in defense of his all-England championship today when he defeated Ferenc Puncce of Yugoslavia, 6-2, 6-4.

The California red-head, who also holds the American, Australian and French titles, will meet England's H. W. (Bunny) Austin in the finals. Austin scored in straight sets today, defeating Henner Henkel of Germany, 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

There was no stopping Budge. Puncce was good but it was like Henry Armstrong fighting Joe Louis. When Don went to the net he left poor Puncce helpless and scratching his head.

Only in the third set, did the Red let down. Then he stayed on the baseline until Puncce held a 4-2 lead and twice was within a point of a 5-2 advantage. Deciding it was time to swing into action again, Budge went to the net and quickly completed a record of having advanced to the finals without the loss of a set.

Babe Ruth Escapes Serious Injury In Unusual Accident

Ridgewood, N. J., June 29—(AP)—Babe Ruth, the home run hitter who returned to baseball recently as a coach for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was safe at home today—but it was a wonder.

He was driving by himself back to New York from a visit with friends near here last night when his car tangled left wheels with another automobile, swerved 30 feet across the West Saddle river road, struck a low stone wall and fell on its side.

Ruth climbed from his badly damaged car unhurt. Miss Rose Beck of Upper Saddle River, driver of the other car, stayed on the road and also was uninjured.

Knacks Face George In Paw Paw Tilt; Locals Play Welland, July 4

Old Timers To See Game From Dixon and Paw Paw

Sunday afternoon at Reynolds field, commencing at 2:30 P. M., Paw Paw will tangle with the Dixon Knacks.

Paw Paw and Dixon teams have been playing ball together for many years. Paw Paw always has strong clubs and this year's nine is not set up for any team in the Illinois State League. Gibby George, who pitches for the Paw Paw club, is one of the best young hurlers in the loop and has pitched very good ball this year. Chaland who plays center field and does some twirling is a very fine player. A couple of years ago he tried out with the Chicago White Sox and made a favorable impression. He is a good hitter and is fast, really constituting the backbone of the Paw Paw team.

Beat Paw Paw Once

The Knacks defeated Paw Paw in the opening game of the season 9 to 5, Paw Paw getting its five runs off George Carlson who was then pitching for the Knacks. Ole Prestegard allowed the Paw Paw team only two hits in eight innings. If Ole is not in shape to pitch Sunday, either his brother Harold or Shires Miller will take the mound for the Knacks.

Shires is in good condition and his curve ball has been breaking fast. The Knacks will play at Mendota the Fourth of July where the Mendota American Legion post is staging a celebration at Kakusha park. Welland will be Dixon's opponent. Thursday evening, Manager Bert Cummings contacted several old time baseball stars here and they all promised to attend the Paw Paw game Sunday.

INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLF HONORS LOOK LIKE TURNESA'S

Louisville, Ky., June 29—(AP)—The boys around the locker-room wasted little time today in establishing Willie Turnesa, 23-year-old "youngster" of the Turnesa golfing family, as a favorite for the national intercollegiate championship.

A Holy Cross senior, Turnesa was literally "on the spot" as the 32 low scorers squared away for the 1938 crown, after his great qualifying finish of 69, the only sub-par round of the inaugural play, focussed attention his way.

Turnesa, a semi-finalist three years ago, was tied for the medalist trophy by Lew W. Oehmg of Chattanooga, Tenn., champion of his state and Virginia captain. Each carded 145, three over par, for 36 holes.

"Sudden Death"

As the low-scoring brigade of the collegians started the "sudden death" elimination match play with two 18-hole round eliminations. Turnesa's opponent in the first round was William S. Boyd, Jr., of Stanford, who qualified with 151. Oehmg met Ralph Sharpless of Texas, another 151 shooter.

Aside from the co-medalist matches, the features affair of the opening round sent Sid Richardson, newly-elected president of the Intercollegiate association, against Bobby Jacobson of Dartmouth. Richardson qualified with 149 and Jacobson with 152.

In the qualifying, Stanley Holte of Georgia Tech and Bill Lee Craig of Oklahoma were runners-up to Oehmg and Turnesa with totals of 147. Holte's first opponent was Paul Genung of the University of Dayton, while Craig met Frank Perlich of Northwestern. Genung and Perlich both qualified with 152.

Two rounds of match play were on today's program. Each was at the 18-hole route, but starting with the quarter-finals on Thursday the collegiate sharpshooters who survived today will fare a 36-hole route.

Stanford walked away in record style with the team championship over the 36-hole test with a total of 601, 10 strokes under the previous best mark of 611 registered by Michigan in winning three years ago. Two teams, Northwestern and Oklahoma, tied for second with 609.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

FOR YEARS, CHINESE RAZORS WERE MADE OF OLD, WORN-OUT HORSE SHOES, FROM HAMBURG GERMANY!

THE CHINESE BELIEVED THAT THE HAMMERING ON THE COBBLED STREETS OF HAMBURG GAVE THE SHOES A PERFECT TEMPER, AND THEY WOULD NOT BUY FROM ANY OTHER CITY.

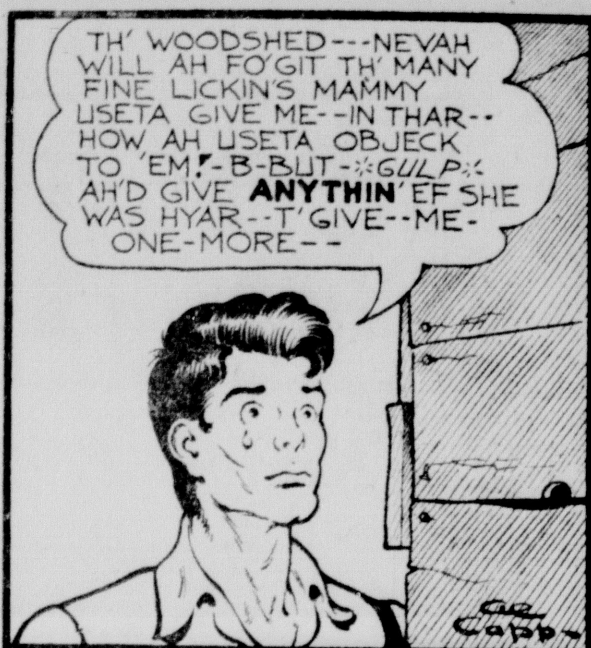

THE HUMMINGBIRD HAS A TUBE-LIKE TONGUE, FOR SUCKING UP NECTAR FROM FLOWERS.

HAMBURG once was the old horseshoe center of the world, and it all came about by accident. Ships sailing from Hamburg to China began carrying loads of old horseshoes as ballast, but the Chinese found that the shoes could be cut in two, and ground into razors. But only shoes shipped from Hamburg found a market.

Chapter 47.
Asey Finds Some Clues.
Roddy, Asey felt sure, had come to the garage after Marina's murder, and his plane wrecking and all the rest had been inspired by his more or less justifiable fear that he would be arrested for the killing. He paid his hush money to Nettie because he was scared stiff.
Jack Lorne might have gone to Roddy's, he might have slunk through the woods near the Hepplewhites. But it was Asey's guess that Lorne had been summoned on the phone by Roddy, and that he had immediately returned home when Roddy—probably already dead in the garage, or at least already there with someone else—failed to show up.
While he and the rest raced their heads off, chasing Jennings, rescuing troopers, pulling Aaron out of cellars, hunting gold kays—during all that, the murderer was laughing up his sleeve. Why shouldn't he? He'd covered his tracks as nicely as anyone could. He hadn't thrust any obstacles around that would trip him up later. He hadn't tried to thwart anyone. He hadn't left any clues.
But he must have left clues. You couldn't kill two people, ruin a mural, burn a barn, steal a gold key from a Congressman, draw a knife from an artist, a knife from a back door—you couldn't begin to do all those things without slipping up somewhere.
Wearily Asey forced his mind back to Friday night and the beginning of everything.
He had worked his way up to the barn burning when he heard two cars pull up in his drive.
"Hanson," Asey murmured grimly to himself as he went to answer the knocker. "Hanson, jubilant an' crowin'—" Far from being pleased with himself and his solution, Hanson was worried.
"Asey," he said. "I'm stuck. Did Cummings tell you about Lorne? Well, it won't work. It ought to, but—my God, you've got to believe him! Lorne claims that Roddy called him up and urged him to come over on a matter of great importance. Lorne didn't want to, he said, because he was busy working on a picture for someone's dining room—now, isn't that crazy?"
"Not," Asey returned. "If you've had many deals with Lorne, it ain't. But he went, just the same?"
"Roddy kept calling and calling. So Lorne went, at last. When Roddy didn't show up by the boat-house, where he said he'd be, why Lorne turned around and came home, and went back to work on his picture. That's his story, and he's sticking to it. And I can't break it. We can't. None of us. I can't get him to change a thing, and honestly, Asey, I'm beginning to think he's telling the truth! What do you think?"
"There's the matter of his drawin'." Asey said. "Someone burned 'em, an' it wasn't Jennings. An' the mural. It's been painted out, you know. I think both of 'em have got something to do with this affair, an' I think Lorne's the last person to harm his own work."
"I guess something happened to the mural," Hanson said. "Look can I come in and talk things over with you? I've got pictures of the mural, they just came from Boston. Asey, if you think there's any clue in this thing, will you look?"
Asey spread the photographs out on the table.
"These side panels," he said to Hanson, "are the things, I think. Now, let's see. This one here's all Pilgrims an' Indians an' history. Local faces. That's past history, I guess, an' this one's the future, with more local faces. Yup, here's Jennings as Industry Mending the Leaking Pipes of Civilization—"
"Look!"
"Where's Pam Frye and her father?"
"They're in the main one," Asey said. "She's one of them tired-lookin' women that's stirrin' things in the kettle, an' he's either Time or the tax collector, floatin' on top. On here's Peg Boone, on the history side. She's the Indian girl skinnin'—Hanson, what'n time is that critter she's skinnin'?"
"It might be almost anything," Hanson said. "It's got four front legs. She looks pretty good, compared to Sam. He did her a lot better than Pam. Asey, there's the milkman, and here's the Portygee we ran in so many times for boot-legging—"
At the end of an hour, Hanson sighed.
"I can't make anything out of this," he said. "Not a thing. Can you? Oh, don't tell me you're going to go through it all over he asked for that book that his grandfather wrote, and was just as nice as he could be. Left some money for a new encyclopedia, too. He said the one they had wasn't no good. An' he said he'd have the whalin' book rebound in leather with nice gold trimmings before he returned it—wasn't that nice of him?"

"Jennie," Asey said. "who built Octagon House?"
"Who? I don't know!"
Asey took her by the shoulders and propelled her to the phone.
"See that?" he said. "Well, you go ring the twenty-one line, man by man. You find out, Jennie, who built the Octagon House! Hurry!"
"But—"
"If you find out," Asey said, "I'll do anything you want."
"Will you," Jennie asked, "put on some decent clothes before the reporters take pictures of you?"
"White flannels, an' a blue coat," Asey promised, "an' my best yachtin' cap. Now, goin'. Don't ask questions now, Hanson. Wait'll we see if this turns out—you see, he didn't know about this ambergris, at first. That is, he didn't know the value—"
"Who didn't?"
"Roddy," Asey said. "Then, after his plane crashed, an' before he begun flingin' money to Nettie, an' offerin' rewards, an' being so lavish—sure, he'd bind it in gold! Why not? He remembered his grandfather's book, see? About whalin' an' ambergris. Looked up ambergris in encyclopedias, too—man, don't you see? It was Roddy who moved that ambergris out of the barn. Roddy Strutt! Roddy found out by then how much the ambergris was worth! An' Roddy has his savin' streak, in the family yen to get money—Roddy moved it! I knew there had to be another person, an' some reason for him bein' killed! Got someone, Jennie?"
"Well, if it don't beat all," Jennie said. "The line was busy—I

CAN'T PAY HIS BILL; OFFERS MANY REASONS

An Ottawa grocer reports receiving the following copy of the response of a small town merchant to a request for payment of a bill:
"My Dear Sirs:
"In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to federal laws, state laws, county laws, liquor laws, mother-in-laws, brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, and outlaws.
"Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, school tax, gas tax, light tax, sales tax, liquor tax, carpet tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax, and excise tax. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, hunting and fishing license, truck license, not to mention a marriage license and dog license.
"I am required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life; to women's relief, the unemployed relief and the gold digger's relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, the black cross, the purple cross, and the double cross. "For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, accident insurance, business insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployment insurance, old age and fire insurance.

"My business is so governed that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am expected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, dejected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded, and compelled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need of the human race.
"Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up, held down and robbed until I am almost ruined.
"I can tell you honestly that except for the miracle that happened, I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to many doors nowadays, just had

Appointed Pastor Of Chicago Church

Chicago, June 29.—(AP)—The Rev. Vincent Jeremiah Moran, pastor of the Church of Santa Maria Del Popolo at Mundelein, Ill., today was appointed pastor of St. Bonaventure Roman Catholic church on the northwest side of Chicago by Cardinal Mundelein.
The present pastor of the latter church, the Rev. William P. Long, has been selected to head St. Thomas Aquinas church, the largest church in the archdiocese. Prior to directing St. Bonaventure's church, Father Long was pastor of St. Bernard church in Joliet.

Do not overlook the Evening Telegraph's accident insurance policy. You can't afford to be without it.

Oh, if your Engine only could

OF COURSE, you can't leave your engine standing on its head every time you park, but you can have it OIL-PLATED. And OIL-PLATING not only goes clear up inside your engine, but stays there—for hours—weeks—months—even while the engine is right-side up at a standstill! Now why is that better?

Well, this exclusive OIL-PLATING—formed in your engine solely by patented Conoco Germ Processed oil—is always up there ready to lubricate before other oils could even begin to circulate. Therefore, every start you make finds cylinders, rings, bearings and other parts self-lubricated in advance. The action of the patented Germ Process has kept them continuously charged with oil, or OIL-PLATED.

They cannot "start dry," and thus you are rid of engine enemy No. 1. Good platings don't evaporate either, or lose their grip during Summer spurts. You can tell that about OIL-PLATING by noting how Conoco Germ Processed oil maintains the oil-level. Head in at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Company
